was on the ground, supervising the drilling operations. Mr. Cain was interested with Mr. Tallé and others in the development of a cattle ranch in the Seven Lakes country, owning 800 acres of land there. They have forgotten about prospects for grass, water and yearlings now, however, and are in strong for the oil business. Experts are already on the ground and declare the indications are splendid for an abundance of gas and oil. The necessary machinery for developing the well has already been ordered and will be put in operation as quickly as it arrives.—Albuquerque Herald.

Harsh Condemnation.

Nothing is more contemptible than a bald man who pretends to have hair.—Martial.

Habit of Loon.

As a diver the loon excels naturally, for it is his sole means of livelihood. Not only is he amazingly quick, but he can remain under water for a seemingly endless time. In swimming under water he uses both wings and feet and can swim several hundred yards in the water. The loon, like many other water birds, sleeps on the water with its head tucked under his wing.—St. Nicholas.
